

The Mediterranean Accounting Conference (TMAC)

Protaras/Ayia Napa, Cyprus • June 23-25, 2025

Call for Papers

The Organizing Committee of the Mediterranean Accounting Conference (TMAC) is pleased to announce a call for papers for its inaugural conference, to be held in Protaras/Ayia Napa, Cyprus, on June 23 – 25, 2025. This new conference seeks to bring together leading academics from around the world to present and discuss cutting-edge research in accounting. We invite submissions in all areas of accounting and closely related fields.

The Mediterranean Accounting Conference is co-organized by Tel Aviv University and the University of Cyprus and will take place at the Grecian Park Hotel in the seaside resort of Protaras/Ayia Napa.

We are pleased to announce that the invited speakers of the conference are:

- Dechow, Patricia, University of Southern California
- Hemmer, Thomas, Rice University
- Sapra, Haresh, University of Chicago
- Shivakumar, Lakshmanan, London Business School
- Sloan, Richard, University of Southern California
- Van der Stede, Wim A, London School of Economics

Paper selection will be based on novelty and the incremental contribution to accounting literature. Submitted papers must not have been previously published.

For any inquiries regarding the conference, please contact Mr. Marios Kyriakou, Organizing Committee Assistant, at kmarios@ucy.ac.cy

Further details and registration information can be found on our website.
